Warm Battle In Congress Over Sheppard Bill Seems Imminent

PURCHASER OF LIQUOR WOULD COMMIT CRIME

Wets, Drys Split Over Possibilities Of Measure

CAP SHEAF OF LAW, IS CLAIM

Some Drys Fear Bill Is Too Radical; See Reaction

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Sheppard bill to make the buyer of bootleg liquor equally guilty with the seller has split the wets, the drys, the judiciary, and the constitutionalists in congress wide open.

No single question that has arisen in connection with the many-aided prohibition controversy has caused such a wide divergence of opinion among both friends and foes of Volsteadism, a survey disclosed today.

There will be a battle over it when congress convenes in regular session in December that is going to reveal some strange political bed-fellows.

Two federal district courts have held that the man who buys an illegal drink is equally guilty of a felony with the man who sells it. The circuit court of appeals, second district, has held he is not.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, the so-called "Father of Prohibition," regards his new bill as the logical concluding step in the enforcement of prohibition. Dr. A. Barton, a prohibition pillar for many years, deprecates the Sheppard bill and doubts its wisdom.

Drys Split Open

The drys are split wide open—some, like Sheppard, contending that it is the logical next step, and others, like Barton, fearing that it will cause such a revolution of feeling and arouse so much opposition, as to seriously menace the maintenance of Volsteadism on the statute books. They fear it is so drastic that "the country won't stand for it."

The wets are split equally wide open—some cynically hoping that the measure will pass because they sincerely believe it will "kill prohibition," and others contending that it will merely extend the "evil of the present system."

The Constitutionalists of senate merely reflect this patchwork of divergent opinion. Their opinion were sought and obtained by International News Service today and disclosed some unusual differences.

"It is a very close question," said Senator William H. Borah, of Idaho, who is a dry among drys, referring to the constitutionality of the measure.

"Congress naturally cannot go beyond the constitution, but the constitution prohibits the sale of liquor and there cannot be a sale without a purchaser. It is a very close question, indeed. Undoubtedly, the supreme court will have to pass on it."

Claims It Legal

"I think it is constitutional," said Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, another outstanding dry. "It would be a means of preventing the sale of liquor which the constitution forbids."

"After all, congress is authorized to pass any legislation which is necessary to prevent the sale of alcoholic liquors. If congress believes that a specific act, making it illegal to purchase liquor, would help prevent its sale, then such an act in my opinion would be constitutional. The man who buys liquor is aiding in making a sale and therefore can be punished."

HESS FUNERAL SERVICE TODAY

Victim Of Burning Plane Will Be Buried Today; Flier Aids Ceremony

Alliance, O. Oct. 15.—The man who would have been at the controls of the ship in which Aubrey Hess, 30, Alliance plane builder, plunged to his death Saturday, will wing over the funeral cortege this afternoon and drop flowers upon the grave in City Cemetery.

Lieut. Billie Leonard, chief test pilot of the Alliance Aircraft Corp., was in New England on demonstration flights Saturday.

Had he been here, he would have taken up the ship which burst into flames and carried its builder to his death.

Funeral services will be in charge of Dr. W. H. McMaster, president of Mount Union College, at a downtown funeral chapel.

Until the company directors meet, Kermit Donaldson, production manager, will fill the post of general manager.

Rattlesnake Bite Proves Fatal

Morganstown, W. Va., Oct. 15.—While transferring some snakes from one cage to another, Col. Charles William Cramer, 53, a prominent herpetologist, was fatally bitten by a rattlesnake yesterday.

Although he has been bitten several times previous to his disastrous encounter, he was unable to throw off the poison this time.

He has contributed some rare specimens of snakes to various zoos.

VIOLENCE MARKS GOTHAM STRIKE

Whalen Doubles Police For Protection Of Trucks

New York, Oct. 15.—Violence in the "gas" strike today prompted Police Commissioner Groyer Whalen to double the number of policemen assigned to guard oil properties and strikebreakers, so that now 1,600 policemen are on strike duty.

Three thousand fuel truck drivers are on strike in all the five boroughs, and as a result service stations supply the public with gasoline have been greatly handicapped.

Threats of sympathetic strikes were made by union leaders. There are approximately 5,000 men employed in the 2,000 service stations in the five boroughs and union officials declare that 2,500 of them are ready to form a union. A meeting of these employees for this purpose is to be held tonight.

Street fighting and accidents due to the strike have resulted in serious injury to strikebreakers and others. In Brooklyn and Queens one man was shot or stabbed, another sustained a fractured skull.

Business Men Play Too Much Golf, Holds Industrial Chief

New York, Oct. 15.—"Too much golf."

That's one of the few things wrong with business today, in the opinion of George L. Markland, chairman of the Philadelphia Gear Works, and one of the 1,000 delegates attending the annual convention of the National association of manufacturers at the Roosevelt Hotel.

"Fundamentally business is sound and getting better," said Mr. Markland in an exclusive interview this morning. "But—"

He emphasized the "But."

"But too many business men and executives are afflicted with golfitis," he declared. "Why, they're more serious about golf than about their business."

"This country is not going to produce Andrew Carnegies, Charlie Schwabs, J. Pierpont Morgans, Henry Fords or John Wanamakers on the golf links. No sir! and take the Carnegies and the Wanamakers out of industry and industry will collapse."

The silver-haired, 61-year-old manufacturer (he calls himself "just a kid") warmed up to his subject.

"The country is in the throes of a mad race for pleasure. Golf, the movies, radios, world series, pig football games, dancing—everybody thinking of how to have a good time and not enough thinking on how to use their hands and their brains. "It's a form of hysteria."

LEGION POST TO SPONSOR ANNUAL PARADE, FROLIC

Halloween Festivities To Be Conducted In Salem Soon

Salem will again be given over the carefree spirit of mardi gras festivities late this month when the annual Halloween celebration is staged here under the auspices of the American Legion, Charles H. Carey post No. 56.

Plans whereby this year's observance of old-time festive rites will surpass those of all other years in the city's history are being formulated by sponsors of the occasion and preliminary plans for the event were outlined for the first time at the post's regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Clowns, witches and all other mythical figures proverbial of Halloween celebrations will make their appearance on the city's streets during the festivities. A gala parade which will include a long line of mummers, a band and other features will be arranged.

Committees Named

Four committees were appointed by the post and instructed to speed final preparations for the event. Committees were named to take charge of the parade, mummers, prizes, platform activities and a dance which will be given by the Legion.

Last year's Halloween celebration drew a record-breaking crowd of between 5,000 and 6,000 persons to the city to view the droll spectacle of mummers parading through the city.

The committees follow:
Parade—Harold Hise, Frank Stouder, Norman Peters, and D. J. Burdew.

Prizes—C. G. McCorkhill, O. C. Hoover, Charles Hald, Hugh Glickler, W. W. Andrews, R. L. Hutcherson, John Litty and Paul Dean.

Platform—Leroy Foust, R. W. Broomall and George Slocum.

Joe M. Kelley was named to take charge of the dance which will probably be held at the Memorial building auditorium following the downtown program.

LIQUOR TRIALS TO START SOON

Eckert, Julian Ask For New Hearings; Many Are Scheduled

Lisbon, Oct. 15.—Jake Eckert of East Liverpool and Louis Julian of Salem, both of whom were recently convicted in probate court following a trial on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor, have filed motions for new trials. On account of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle being out of the county last week, these motions will not be reviewed until probably later in the week.

The first of a series of liquor trials to come up in this court as a result of recent raids in Salem by state prohibition inspectors is scheduled to come up Wednesday morning when the trial of Steve Cosmaria of Salem has been scheduled. This trial was to have been held today, but because of the inability of state witnesses to appear in court, the trial was advanced one day.

LOBBYING GETS RIGID SURVEY

Spotlight Now Plays On Activities of Tariff Commission

Washington, Oct. 15.—The greatest lobby investigation ever undertaken by the senate got under way today with a senatorial committee turning its spotlight directly on activities of the United States tariff commission.

The initial effort of the senate inquirers was to learn whether the tariff commission ever changed its decisions on rate questions because of political influence or industrial pressure. This phase of the inquiry involved the pottery industry since the first witnesses were Frederick L. Koch, pottery expert on the tariff commission, and William Burgess, former commissioner now affiliated with the U. S. Pottery association.

"We want to find out first whether any commissioner ever changed his vote on an important rate question under threats of losing his job," explained Senator T. H. Caraway (D) of Arkansas, chairman of the investigating committee. "After that, we will take up the activities of the sugar lobby before going on to other matters."

In connection with the sugar lobby, the committee subpoenaed Thomas O. Marvin, chairman of the tariff commission, and Edgar B. Browder, member. They apparently will be questioned about political pressure brought on the commission in 1923 to prevent a report on the sugar duty. This report was filed subsequently with President Coolidge and urged a sweeping reduction of the sugar tariff.

Mrs. Doris Merryman, of Toledo department president, is expected in Salem for the district meeting of the Daughters of Union Veterans, which will be held here, Friday, Oct. 25.

DAWES REFUSES WORD ON NAVAL PARITY ON ARRIVAL IN AMERICA

Mme. Curie Also Passenger On Liner When Vessel Docks; She Is To Obtain More Radium Here; Ambassador Smokes Favorite Pipe

New York, Oct. 15.—General Charles Gates Dawes, United States ambassador to Great Britain and the "man behind the peace guns" in the disarmament negotiations between President Hoover and Premier Ramsay MacDonald, arrived here today aboard the Ile De France for a brief stay and disappointed an army of reporters at the pier by declining to discuss the Anglo-American peace negotiations or the part he played in leading up to them.

Also aboard the liner was Mme. Curie, the "grandmother of science," co-discoverer of radium, who has come here to obtain another gram of the precious substance for use in her experimentation.

Mme. Curie was willing to talk, but, as she explained in a statement prepared for presentation to interviewers, her "physical condition" precluded the possibility of her talking to reporters. The strain of the journey had told on the aged woman, and she expressed her regret at being forced to remain in her stateroom.

Ambassador Dawes played the role of the experienced diplomat, who although he is unanimously accredited with making the recent epochal visit of Premier MacDonald a possibility through the negotiations he launched immediately after his arrival in London, he flatly refused to discuss "official business."

The general, a striking figure in a natty blue suit with white pencil stripes, had been on many months ago when he sailed to take over the ambassadorship. Its brightness and apparent newness baffled reporters, but General Dawes maintained that the pipe was the same one he was smoking when he sailed, and that he puffed on during his now historic conversations with Premier MacDonald at the latter's home in Lonsmouth, Scotland.

"An ambassador," said General Dawes when pressed for a statement.

On the naval disarmament situation, "is simply an agent representing a nation, whose duty it is to transmit official news to the heads of his country."

"I cannot have anything to say concerning the naval negotiations or any other purely official business."

Ambassador Dawes said he intended to go first to Chicago, returning later to spend "a day or two" in Washington conferring with Secretary of State Stimson and President Hoover.

MIAMI IN PATH; REPAIRING CANAL

Emergency Fund Voted By City To Aid In Work

Miami, Fla., Oct. 15.—Like a thin ice glacier, a lake of flood waters draining from the Everglades, today was descending upon Miami and its vicinity.

The lake was formed when the high waters crept over the banks of the Miami Canal which has already reached a flood stage at Hialeah, a suburb of Miami, and inundated hundreds of acres of land.

Many persons in the low residential sections of Hialeah have been forced to abandon their homes while the town itself faced complete isolation should the rampant waters break through the West Dykes of the canal.

Meanwhile a large crew of workers was massed today at a point a few miles above Hialeah to begin work on a drainage ditch in an effort to avert the impending disaster. The city of Miami yesterday voted an emergency fund of $21,000 for the construction of this ditch, while simultaneously another appropriation of $1,000 was voted for relief work among those driven from their homes by the flood waters.

JUDGE REFUSES PERSONAL VIEWS IN DEATH TRIAL

Much "Thunder" Removed From Testimony By Actions

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 15.—The issues of communism, anarchy, racial equality and atheism will not play a major part in the murder trial of Fred Erwin Beal organizer of the Gastonia strike, and his six "comrades," it appeared today as the defense prepared to call the second of the defendants to the stand in his own behalf.

Judge M. V. Barnhill had a steadfastly refused the state permission to attempt to impeach the defendants by questioning them regarding their political alignments, but instead has allowed the prosecution to quiz them as to their individual views thus eliminating much of the trials potential thunder.

In the cross examination of Beal who came to Gastonia last December as southern organizer for the National Textile Workers union, the state failed to draw from him his purported communist beliefs. Judge Barnhill sustained a defense objection when Beal was asked if he had ever taught communism or even knew the meaning of the application. When asked if he advocated the overthrow of constituted authority by force or violence, Beal replied negatively.

Following the completion of the redirect examination of Beal today the defense will call another of the defendants to the stand. All of them probably will testify before the defense rests its case, of the remaining defendants, Clarence Miller, an organizer for the young communists league, is the only one affiliated with the communist party.

Patrolman McMillen was also wounded in the fray as was another man, whose name has not been learned as yet. Neither is believed to be in a serious condition.

CONVENTIONS

Before the last dry leaf scuttles under the edge of a hollow log and settles itself for the winter, the convention season will be over. Men with large red ribbons pinned to their lapels will be regarded with suspicion and explanations demanded. Queer hats and shiny buttons will be regarded as strange. Photographers specializing in panoramic pictures will fold their tripods and scuttle south in pursuit of the fleeing convention climate. Caterers will go back to the factory positions which they left to take advantage of the convention appetite and empty will be the hearts of many.

In the days of old, good men and true enjoyed themselves in their peculiar ways every day, as part of the daily routine. These same men now, or their type counterparts, suffer longer and go to conventions for their occasional bursts of steamy enthusiasm.

The more distant the meeting place, the more delicious the anticipation and the better the repose of the convention delegates. The world is small and one has so many critical friends scattered about in so many different cities that 2,000 miles is a mere stretch when business or pleasure is at stake.

It is one of the great achievements of progress that it has been made possible for the scope of human relationships to extend farther than over the back fence or so many doors down the street. People are happier because of the opportunity to see other people from different localities and the benefits received are incalculable.

The convention is an expression of the urge to make pleasurable contact with one's neighbors all over the world. Serious as the topic for discussion may be, there is no one can deny that there is a tangible convention spirit—an attitude which is just a bit more conducive to having a good time than the work-a-day attitude.

Salem has been host to several conventions during the past six months and hopes to accommodate many more next season. Salem residents are glad to receive these people who come from other cities and from every community in the United States and they hope that, in between session times, the delegates are finding time to enjoy the hospitality which the city offers.

AN AUSPICIOUS BEGINNING

Interrupted occasionally by tropical showers, the son of a great American was recently inaugurated ninth American civil governor of the island of Porto Rico. Col. Roosevelt gave his inaugural address in two languages—Spanish and English. He undertook the study of the former six weeks ago, after he had received notice of his appointment.

The impression which he made on the islanders and the response which they made to his remarks was reminiscent of another visit of a Roosevelt to Porto Rico—a visit by President Roosevelt in 1907, the only presidential visit in its history. The name "Roosevelt" is a living actuality to the inhabitants of the tiny island whose new governor gives every indication of being able to sustain the good reputation which it has enjoyed there.

In outlining his program, Governor Roosevelt pointed out that the island's economic problems overshadowed all other considerations. The most pressing vital needs for Porto Rico could be classified, he held, under labor, health, agriculture and education, and to them all lesser activities and considerations must give way. It was emphasized particularly that Porto Rico must be put on the map by the right kind of advertising. "We must make it more than a name—an actuality," he said. "For your children and mine," was his reiterated phrase in speaking for a better future.

could desire, but the auspicious start made by its bearer indicates plainly that there will be more to his governorship than the use of that name. He is a man of action and Porto Rico should flourish under his supervision.

The warring factions in China are said to have stopped fighting, Thursday, to celebrate the eightieth anniversary of their Independence day, but it's possible that the real explanation is that it rained.

What Others Say

THE HEART-FREE PRINCE

The best reason we have heard lately for not getting married is advanced by the Prince of Wales and is recorded in his officially-approved biography, just off the press—he never has fallen in love. Thus does the world move and, insofar as Britain is concerned, at least, leave behind the era when the scion of a royal house was expected to marry the lady his family picked out for him. Just as he was expected to change to long trousers at a certain age. So far as he was concerned, the event was merely a state duty which he had to perform and from some of the old engravings of the Prince in the history books one gathers that some of them were justified in climbing the castle walls once in a while, just to get their minds off things. But here is the Prince of Wales foregoing matrimony because he isn't in love and never has been; and because he regards the sanctity of marriage so seriously that he will not be thrust into a marriage of convenience. The prince has the advantage of modern enlightenment concerning personal liberty and it scarcely is likely that anyone will be able to bring enough pressure to bear to make him do anything against his wishes. That pressure constantly is being brought against him is more than probable. We can only hope he won't weaken.—Columbus Dispatch.

BRIBING CHILD TO EAT FOOD "GOOD FOR HIM"

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Recently an interesting report was made by Dr. Margarette Gauger, of Teachers College Institute of Child Welfare Research, concerning the feeding of children. This report deals with experiments made with a group of children ranging in age from 18 months to a little more than three years. Knowing the difficulty many parents have in feeding their children, these experts worked along this line, hoping to solve the problem.

DR. COPELAND

The average child may be said to be emotional and temperamental. What they will eat today they will refuse tomorrow. It was found that eating was made easier by following a daily routine without conversation about the food, or coercion in eating. After a while they learned to take food as a matter of course, thus proving that much of the dislike for certain foods can be overcome in early life.

Nothing is more difficult than to induce a child to eat the things he does not want. Sometimes children will take a food distasteful to him by promises of a reward. This is not good practice. It sets a bad example and the bribing must be increased and often repeated.

In the tests by Miss Gauger, harmless substances were fed to the children and so given as not to interfere with their regular diet. Some were pleasant to take and others were not. They were given chocolate during one period and showed a decided liking for it at first, but after a month they were indifferent to it.

At another time a vinegar and salt solution was given daily. At first they naturally showed real dislike, but after a period of four months they took this strange concoction as a drink without any apparent distaste for it.

I cite these two instances to show that children will eat almost any food if they are properly supervised. Eating spinach, carrots, broccoli, beets or peas becomes as much a habit as wearing clothes.

I fear that too many parents regard the training of their young children from the wrong viewpoint. One of these is the belief that the child will not eat unless forced to do so. Of course, if you put the dish of food before the child and say: "Now, Johnny, you must eat this because it is good for you," the suggested thought is that perhaps Johnny had no intention of eating that particular thing.

It is the part of wisdom to take "some" things for granted. Do not constantly urge the children to eat during the meal. Appear disinterested while feeding the child, rather than assuming the usual coaxing and wheedling attitude toward him.

He will come to understand that he should eat the things placed before him as regularly as he takes his daily bath or dresses in the morning. There will be times enough in his life when coaxing or the offer of a reward may be necessary. Forcing a child to eat is harmful rather than beneficial. Be firm, but do not concentrate all your attention on the matter of food.

Maintain a pleasant and cheerful atmosphere at mealtime. This will help the child to create for himself a happy and harmonious spirit while he is eating.

Answers to Health Queries
M. A. W. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is 19 years old and five feet three and one-quarter inches tall?
A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 121 pounds.

MRS. M. L. Q.—I am suffering from bunions. What would you advise? Is an operation advisable?
A.—Wearing broad-toed shoes is often helpful under these circumstances. In some instances placing a pad of cotton between the great toe and the second will relieve pressure on the joint and bring about general relief. Where the trouble is of long standing and very painful more drastic measures may be necessary. Examination will determine whether or not such procedure is advisable.

THANK YOU Q.—What causes my face to be hot and flushed and my hands cold?
A.—Your circulation is probably poor. Build up your entire system and you will improve.

S. E. G. Q.—What can I do for nervousness?
A.—I would suggest that you build up your general health. Eat plenty of nourishing foods, get plenty of sleep in a well ventilated room, exercise in the fresh air daily and take a body-building tonic.

Mrs. L. S. N. Q.—What is the cause of vitiligo? What is the cure?
A.—This is due to lack of pigment. There is nothing that can be done for this condition. However, the spots may be made less noticeable by painting with a wine colored solution of permanganate of potash.

H. D. A. Q.—What should a woman weigh who is 24 years old and five feet four inches tall?
2.—Are baked beans too heavy for a small child's digestion?
A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 121 pounds.
2.—Yes.

I. R. Q.—Is it dangerous to have a child's tonsils removed at this time of the year?
2.—Should this operation be done at home or in a hospital?
A.—No.
2.—I would say that it would be best to have the operation take place in a hospital.

M. O. Q.—Will drinking eight glassfuls of water per day weaken the kidneys?
2.—Will drinking eight glassfuls of water per day help to clear the complexion of pimples and blackheads?
A.—No.
2.—Yes, but other treatment is necessary.

H. B. Q.—What causes an itchy scalp?
A.—May be due to dandruff. Brush the hair daily and use a good tonic.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, October 16.

A day of generally inauspicious conditions may be looked for, according to the predominant auguries. Despite the fact that there may be felt an incentive to action and initiative, yet there are many signs of stubborn obstacles and irritating postponements. Also there is a menace from slander, malice and revenge inducing a personal state of agitation moroseness and melancholy. These may react on domestic and friendly relations detrimentally.

These whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of probable obstacles and delays, conducive to a depressed and discouraged outlook which may find reaction, unhappily in the personal relations, unless a decided effort is made to "keep up a front."

It is possible that there may be malicious or vindictive attacks, unless great circumspection be maintained in personal conduct.

Paper Money Has Value! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

An ancient prejudice nursed the ignorant fear and distrust of paper money. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE inspires the faith which completely accepts the printed obligation. In the interest of convenience and safety, its use is universal.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

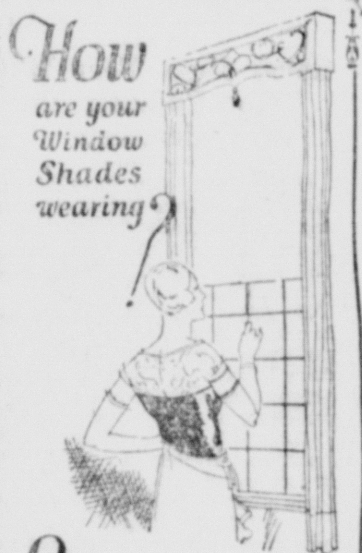

More and More Colds Treated Externally

Growing Demand for Vicks VapoRub Compels Another Increase in Famous Slogan

A generation ago, when Vicks VapoRub was originated, the idea of treating colds without "dosing" was almost unheard of. Today more and more colds are treated externally, and the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing". As a result, the demand for Vicks has increased so rapidly that it is again necessary to change its familiar slogan. First announced when Vicks reached 17 Million Jars Used Yearly, this famous slogan was raised to "21 Million" a short time ago. Once more the figure has been outgrown, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly" in the United States alone.

Mothers of young children especially appreciate Vicks, because there's nothing to swallow and, of course, nothing to upset delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Just rubbed on, this modern vaporizing ointment acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, and at the same time it gives off medicated vapors which are inhaled directly to the inflamed air passages.

Year after year the popularity of Vicks has spread all over the world until it is now the family standby for all colds—adults as well as children's—in more than 60 countries.

SENATE FIGHT

by Senator King of Utah, another Constitutionalist of the senate, and also a dry.

"I have very serious doubts as to the constitutionality of such a law as Senator Sheppard proposes," said King. "Congress cannot create crimes. It can only act under the powers granted it by the constitution. To make the purchase of liquor illegal would undoubtedly create a new crime. I do not believe congress has that power."

A number of other senators, both wet and dry, evaded expressing an opinion publicly on the matter, but their opinions, privately expressed, disclosed a wide range of disagreement.

Undisturbed by the clamor, Senator Sheppard is going ahead with his plans to force a show-down on his bill as early in December as possible.

"It will pass," he said confidently. "It will pass, and it will be the cap-stone of prohibition."

Not a few of his dry colleagues fear that it will prove the proverbial last straw—but they are saying so in private and not in public. Meanwhile, both sides are closely observing the life of public opinion.

King George V of England once paid $8,000 for a rare stamp.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

CYCLIST HURT IN GAS BLAST

Gasoline Tank On Motorcycle Is Cause Of Explosion; Victim Will Recover

East Liverpool, Oct. 15.—Paul, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norris, Westfield, is recovering today from burns to his hands, arms and chest sustained when a gasoline tank on the motorcycle which he was riding at the Chamber of Commerce airport, in Madison township, exploded. Norris was using a wooden cork in the gasoline tank. When the cork blew out he attempted to close the opening with his handkerchief. The gasoline ignited from the hot engine and set fire to his clothing.

The youth smothered the flames by rolling on the ground. He was taken to the City hospital where Dr. W. H. Bailey dressed his burns. He was then removed to his home.

Planes Banned At Football Contests

Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—Airplanes hovering low over football gridirons might seriously interfere with the chances of one or other of the teams playing, according to a complaint sent to Attorney General James M. Ogden, of Indiana by Dr. Edward C. Elliott, president of Purdue university.

Dr. Elliott also said that pilots are endangering spectators at football games through their desire to obtain a close view of the moleskin struggles and asked Ogden what legal relief was possible to curb the danger.

Ogden informed him that two Indiana laws would apply. One imposes a maximum fine for flying so close as to endanger lives and property and another establishes fines from $5 to $50 for interrupting or disturbing any public meeting.

The term, "public meeting," would embrace a football game, according to Ogden.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Oct. 15.—By the details, we shall know chic women is a verity that all the smart dressmakers are proving this season. Details may date, but they also dominate every costume worn by the most fashionable women seen around the capital. It is just this devotion to perfection in the little things that mark the distinction of French clothes.

Subtle play of trimming, intricacy of seams, gathers placed in odd and surprising places, unusual collars and cuffs on dresses otherwise very ordinary—all these stamp the Paris creation. A dress of dark blue pongee is very effective with white georgette vest and cuffs. A plain woolen frock is worn with one of the new short tweed capes having a deep hip-yoke and box pleats.

Fagoting is used by several of the smart houses as a trimming detail on chiffon frocks in the new coffee-brown shade. This old-fashioned stitch is their only ornamentation. Yokes of varying depths are set into bodices with this perennially popular needlework. The motif is repeated in the deep hem of the short peplum.

Patchwork pockets are set afloat at either side of the front of a smart coat and they are repeated in the reverse sense to slant inward toward the center of the skirt and finish off in a tab about the waistline over a white blouse. This patched effect is incrustated into the skirt at one side and a cape completes the coat and skirt.

Afternoon frocks of black crepe satin have a one-sided bolero effect on bodices corresponding to one on the opposite side of a skirt and shaped white frills falling in revers to the waist. A very short white bolero coat is novel on black.

White military braid is another dominating detail in winter fashions, incrustated in a semi-spiral round the body of a black zibeline coat-frock. This fastens at the hip on the braided line with a row of five or six plain bone buttons.

Shirring is also a favorite detail from neck to low hip-line with it in both afternoon and evening dresses.

Tweed And Jersey

PATTERN 8876

Salem News 15c Practical Pattern

An unusual note is created in this wool frock with a cleverly cut yoke, and pointed skirt section. Pleats in front give ample skirt fullness. Tiny gathers or tucks below the yoke at each side create enough freedom in the bodice.

Design 8876 is extremely smart fashioned of light weight tweed and jersey—the tweed mixed brown and tan, and the jersey plain tan. Printed and plain velveteen could be used successfully, also. A leather belt completes the costume.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 32 requires 2 yards printed and 2 yards plain fabric, each 40 inches wide.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coin, carefully wrapped or stamped. We sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted. Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipt of TEN CENTS (10c) in coin. Address all mail and orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

French Society Has Good Reserve Fund

Woonsocket, R. I., Oct. 15.—An increase of $132,742 in the reserve fund of the L'Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amerique, the largest and most influential of all Franco-American societies in the country, during the past four years, was announced here.

During the convention of the society in Holyoke, Mass., in 1925, the reserve fund totaled $2,655,180, while in 1929 it amounted to $3,967,923. In a like manner the sick fund increased considerably. Four years ago it was $141,545 while this year it was $171,174.

Official membership figures by officials of the Franco-American society indicated that the L'Union St. Jean Baptiste D'Amerique has been one of the very few fraternal orders in the United States that has not suffered a loss of membership during the past four years. The extensive popularity of the radio, the automobile, and the motion pictures was given as the reason for the decrease in membership of many organizations.

Visitors and guests from all parts of the United States and the Provinces of Quebec descend upon Burlington, Vt., Oct. 15, for the quadrennial convention of the society.

New Locomotive For Rolling Mill Work

Butler, Pa., Oct. 15.—New features, marking a radical departure from the ordinary design, are in an oil-electric locomotive built for the Armco plant here of the American Rolling Mills company. The locomotive is designed for switching huge ladles of molten metal and weighs 70 tons.

Special glass is used for the windows in the cab window frames are of metal, outside doors are metal-sheathed to resist heat and the paint inside and out is of a special heat resisting type.

The locomotive is arranged so that one man can operate it running with the intensely hot burden of molten metal from furnace to furnace under the protection of the heat afforded by the safety features incorporated in the design of the locomotive.

A solid injection type oil engine is directly connected to an electric generator to supply the current for the heavy duty traction motors, 333 horsepower in capacity.

Engineers claim that in addition to the safety features, the locomotive can be operated at a much lower cost than the older steam powered types.

Pape's COLD COMPOUND to STOP a Cold

"Sax" Drives Away Thoughts of Cold!

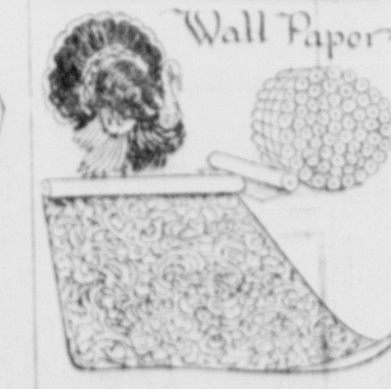

He thought he couldn't play that night, but the cold he'd caught that morning had departed. Most professional people know what really knocks a cold in a few hours; many go through the winter without any trouble from colds. It's a compound that comes in little white tablets, quiet vomiting, feverishness, colic, just about the last; or several tablets if you've let the cold go until it's serious.

Pape's Cold Compound is all you ask for; and the druggist charges 35c for a package, and it never seems to fail for anybody. Adv

Constipation Gone Has Roses In Her Cheeks Now

"About seven years ago, I was dying slowly of constipation. My system was full of poison, which not only dulled my senses, but my complexion was muddy, eyes blurred, my stomach was ruined, and I was continually catching cold. I did not have any life or energy."

"After reading one of your ads, I bought a bottle of Tan-a-wa and began improving at once. Improvement was so marked that everyone noticed it, and spoke of how it cleared my skin, made my eyes much brighter, and put roses in my cheeks. In fact, I was an entirely different person. I took altogether 7 large bottles of Tan-a-wa and looked wonderful and felt the same way. It absolutely made me over. It adds more to your looks than anything I have ever heard of. After I had taken the first 3 bottles, people began to notice the improvement in my skin and my eyes being brighter."

"Every woman should know of it. I have never had a pain since I took Tan-a-wa, no stomach trouble or constipation. I think it is a God-send to humanity."

UMPIRE FACING DEATH CHARGE

Autopsy Leads Authorities To Believe Boy Died Of Heart Attack

Paulding, O., Oct. 15.—Formal charges of manslaughter today had been instituted against Clyde Crane, 45, the father of 10 children, who is alleged to have struck and killed John Strahley, 18, during a fist fight which followed a contested decision at a ball game at which Crane was acting as umpire.

Crane is at freedom today under $5,000 bond, pending disposition of the manslaughter charge, which was filed by the dead youth's father, George Strahley.

A new angle was injected into the case when Dr. Ray Mouser, of Paulding and Dr. B. L. Good, of Van Wert, both reported that Strahley had neither died from a broken neck nor a fractured skull, as it was charged at first.

The vital organs of the youth are being sent to Columbus for examination. It is intimated that Strahley may have suffered a heart attack during his violent rage which was brought on by the argument.

MOVIES

Members of the Salem High school football squad, coaches and managers were guests at the opening showing of "Fashions in Love" at the State theater Monday night with Virgil Rakestraw, manager of the State and Grand as host.

Plans are now under way for the football squad to attend a special showing of the big feature "College Love" which will be shown at the Royal theater soon. The team will be the guest of M. W. Scheffeld, manager and owner of the Royal.

"Whispering Winds" is the current feature at the Royal while "Fashions in Love" appears for the last time at the State.

The story by Jean Plannette is of two women who loved the same man and of a man who loved them both, each one differently. Eve was "that Benton girl" to Jim's mother and to most of the others of the village, for she lived in a shack on the water's edge with her shiftless father and Eve must be shiftless, too, for all she did was mend the fishing nets and sing. But to Jim she was the end of all his dreams while Dora was just a nice, sweet kid.

Then Eve's gorgeous voice was heard by some New York show folks, who offered her a career—and Eve went in search of fame, leaving a letter asking her lover to wait for her. But the letter never reached Jim until after he had solemnly promised to love, honor and protect Dora in a marriage that was more a gesture of wounded pride than a real desire to make Dora his wife.

The story of their marriage and the return of Eve is unfolded in "Whispering Winds," directed by James Flood, and with dialogue, singing and music score.

"Fashions in Love" For good entertainment, subtly and smartly presented, there is no star like Adolphe Menjou. In his first all-talking picture, "Fashions in Love," which opened at the State theatre last night, the sparkling sophisticated surpasses all expectations.

"Fashions in Love" is the ideal Menjou vehicle. It has a real story, a good cast and the picture was made by a master of the cinema, Victor Schertzinger. It places the actor in an atmosphere in which he is at home and his own personality draws his audience into the setting with him. For about two hours, one lives and laughs and loves in the gay situations with this gay star.

Menjou is one of the outstanding highlights in the realm of talking moving pictures. His voice is adapted to this new medium and, to hear him sing from the screen is to really experience the full force of this personality.

The picture is noteworthy for the presence of two outstanding stars of the English stage, Fay Compton and Miriam Seegar, both of whom give splendid performances. Miss Compton sings one of Schertzinger's latest song hits, "I Still Believe in You". His other song hit, "Delphine", is sung by Menjou.

Possibilities that Salem High will continue its winning streak throughout the season and conclude its 1929 football year with a perfect record were reviewed by the team, its coaches, managers and representatives of the city's sports fadoman at a banquet given in honor of the squad Monday night.

With four consecutive victories, already to its credit, the Red and Black griddeers voiced with emphasis and full confidence the fact that the team has an excellent chance of running its winning streak to 11 straight and go on record in Salem grid history as the second team to ever go through a season without a defeat.

Seven games, five of them at home, remain on the schedule for the year, the next contest being with Wellsville High at Reilly stadium Saturday afternoon. Due to the fact that a concert by the famous Roxy quartet will be given at the High school auditorium as a benefit affair for the high school band the game will not be played at night, Friday, as originally planned.

Second County Game

Wellsville will be the second county team to face Salem, Leetonia having been set back by a 40-0 score in the Stenemen's opener. The Orange and Black has no extraordinarily powerful team this year, Coach Dave Evans being handicapped by the loss of several veterans and has made no impressive showing as yet.

That Wellsville will be defeated by Salem was indicated with every bit of confidence by members of Floyd Stone's team at last night's banquet, when more than 45 members of the team gathered at the Elks house as guests of the city's sports enthusiasts. Though not gifted with elocutionist powers to any great extent, a few of the griddeers made plain to the gathering that their aim this season was a perfect record and that the southern county team was to be the fifth victim.

B. L. Flick was the principal speaker on the banquet program, impressing on the members of the team the values of education and the fact that winning a game was not the principle point connected with the playing of the game of football. John M. Davidson, candidate for mayor on the Republican ticket, also spoke and impressed on the team that the entire city was back of it in its effort for a perfect season's record. Norman L. Reich, Coach Stone and H. C. McCord, Thomas Reese, James S. Gregg and Fred K. Schuller were called on for short informal discussions.

Members Respond

Members of the team responded with cheers for the fans who represented more than 100 who had contributed towards the banquet fund. Captain Glenn Whinnery, official spokesman for the squad responded with a short talk. Other members of the squad were called on for minute speeches, following which the entire group were guests of Virgil Rakestraw at the State theater. Flowers at the banquet were furnished by Perry McArthur. Several stiff contests still remain on Salem's schedule. Stone impressed on his squad in warning them the tussles with East and South of Youngstown, Alliance and New Philadelphia.

If the team goes through without a defeat it will be the first in the school's history to win. If straight games, the only other record being held by the team of 1926 when 10 straight games were won.

Real Battle Slated When Semi-Pro Teams Clash Wednesday ATHLETICS RULE BASEBALL WORLD IN SENSATIONAL VICTORY

Macks Come From Rear Again To Defeat Cubs In Fifth Series Game

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

Philadelphia, Oct. 15.—Outside, a city bereft of all reason shrieked its paeon of joy, capering, gibbering, rioting with an abandon that was boundless. It had just been a witness of the most incoherent spectacle a world series ever had known, a chills and fever finish that had brought glorious victory and a world's championship to Philadelphia, tragic defeat and a sense of sickening disaster to Chicago.

Inside, the dressing room was dark and its vast quiet, by comparison, was ominous. Newspapers, callous souls usually, waited with unwonted consideration, their voices lowered to a respectful note.

The curtain had been lowered for the last time "Mule" Haas and "Bing" Miller, the stars of the piece, had bowed themselves off. Probably the greatest drama a world series ever had produced was over. And the old maestro, having outlived the years to see this day come true, was unable to take his curtain call. Connie Mack, the man who made the miracle possible, had collapsed in his hour of triumph.

That was yesterday, five minutes after Haas had hit a home run over the fence, tying the score with one out in the ninth inning, and Miller had followed with a double to right center, scoring Simmons with the winning run.

Today, the world, having indulged itself in its orgy of emotion, was at peace again and Connie Mack, himself once more, was able to make the curtain speech that the choler of his advancing years had denied him yesterday. It was typical that his first word was a tribute to the rival manager, Joe McCarthy, and his second a frank admission that he had conceded this fifth game of the series to the Cubs and had been rehearsing his plans for a sixth game that never came.

Cubs Battle Hard

That was how fine they drew this series. In spite of the fact that the Athletics won four of the five games and outthit and outfielded the Cubs from first to last, they never outgamed the Cubs for one split-second. And the hair-raising finishes of Saturday and yesterday, far from disproving this declaration, actually sustain it.

On Saturday, the Cubs were in front, 8 to 0, going into the final half of the seventh inning and were beaten by a record ten-run rally. This was made possible alike by Charley Root's inexplicable collapse, a blinding run that caused Hack Wilson to lose two flies in the same inning and a pebble that caused Simmons' smash to leap gladly over McMillan's head.

Yesterday, the Cubs went into the last half of the ninth behind a 2 to 0 lead. The Athletics' cause was all but hopeless. The first man, French, a pinch hitter, was brushed down on strikes and hope's tiny flame flickered and almost died. Over a period of 8 1-2 innings, the Athletics had made two futile hits and the side had been set down in order seven out of eight times. Hope, indeed, was on its death bed.

Suddenly, it arose, took up its bed and walked. It did more. It ran. It frolicked, it shouted in sheer joy. Pat Malone, having pitched the perfect ball game, was out there dominating the situation, one minute. The next minute, he was no more. Like the wonderful one-hoss shay, his was a performance so wondrously constructed that, at the end, it disappeared in a puff of smoke.

Perhaps it wasn't Malone's fault. Some critics today were inclined to hold Zach Taylor accountable for the way in which Malone pitched to Haas and Miller. It is baseball fortune that sometimes you pitch one way and the perverse ball goes another. Perhaps a word from those in the best position to decide might be valuable.

"The ball looked as big as a grapefruit and I hit it," said Haas. It is history that he hit it over the right field fence on a line, tying the score with the aid of Bishop who previously had singled. Malone, whether by fate or design, had pitched a fast one, high and inside.

To Haas. It was the kind he murders. I purposely took two strikes in the hope that Malone would throw me the ball I wanted. He did."

This was Bing Miller's version of what happened after Simmons had doubled and Fox had been purposely passed. The ball Miller wanted and Malone threw was a fast one, high and on the outside. It was the kind he massacres.

So, even granting that they were intentional, Malone had made only two mistakes and they cost him a victory and his club a world's championship. On Saturday, it was momentary let down in vigilance, coupled with the machinations of destiny, that gave the Athletics a start toward posterity and they never stopped.

Only One Answer

Surely, there can be only one answer to a situation, whereby two fine, fighting pitchers like Root and Malone are made to yield suddenly, dramatically and completely at the very moment that their triumph is about to be consummated. The answer must be that the better ball club won this most sensational of all series since the "home run" Baker episode of 1911 and the famous Giant-Red Sox affair of 1912.

Anyhow, the event was history today and the crowds that had seen the five games in Chicago and Philadelphia, totaling 199,700, people, had settled into the monotony of life, normal human beings once more. The receipts, in spite of the limited capacity of Shibe park and Wrigley field, reached an impressive total of $859,494, of which the players' share the most adequate.

They got $388,086.66, while the advisory council of baseball took $85,949.40. This left the clubs $387,447.18 and the idealists a chance to prate of the honesty of the grand, old game.

The full-share players of the Athletics were to get $6,093.69 each for their victory, the Cubs $4,022.46 each for their defeat. The Yankees and Cardinals did somewhat better last year, but, offhand, I would venture to say that this was doing well enough.

It seems only fitting, too, to let Connie Mack have the last word. He always is interesting, all the more so at this moment with tumult over the American League's third straight victory stilled at last.

Mack Speaks

"First, let me say that Joe McCarthy has proved himself one of the greatest managers I ever have known," Connie said. "I predicted four years ago that he would lead a pennant winner. Today, I wish to predict that the time isn't far away when he will lead a world's champion."

"I wasn't so sure in the ninth inning yesterday that he mightn't do that even this year. In my mind, I virtually had conceded this game to the Cubs and was making my plans for the sixth game in Chicago. We hadn't been able to hit Malone and it looked as though we never would be able to hit him."

"But I was lucky. I had a game, fighting, resourceful club under me and they won out in the one way that convinces me of their greatness."

"As for McCarthy, he got everything possible out of his club. He simply couldn't beat fate and the Athletics combined."

Prior to yesterday, Connie Mack hadn't won a pennant since 1914, or a world series title since the year preceding that. But in all the years of defeat it is quite evident from his remarks today, that he hasn't forgotten how to win.

Grid Stars Falter At Speech-Making

They may be savage, bawling demons of the gridiron when they get out on the football field but as after-dinner speakers members of the Salem High grid squad fail to even threats from their coach, Floyd Stone of "five laps tomorrow" failed to stir the players from their chairs into a speech-making effort. The ability to play football is theirs but as forensic artists—there proved to be about 45 lads badly in need of oratorical study.

This was all revealed when the entire Salem High grid squad was feted by enthusiastic sport fans of the city at the Elks home Monday night. Everyone had a good time—a few of the players gave speeches but the majority refused and will run an extra five or six laps around the track at Reilly stadium today.

Fight Results

At Philadelphia — Maxie Rosenbloom, New York light-heavyweight, won ten round decision over Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo.

At Rochester — Frank Wine, Butte Schanton, won 10-round decision over third round over Kayo Brown, New York (10).

At New Orleans — Joe King, New Orleans, won 10-round decision over Jack De Mave, Newark.

At Louisville — Johnny Mason, Take one, and that first snuff is Norman Brown, Indianapolis.

At Wichita — George Manley, Denver, won 10-round decision over Joe Packo, Toledo.

At Pittsburgh — Tommy Freeman, Cleveland, won ten round decision over George Levine, Brooklyn.

At Lancaster — Joey Williams, Lancaster, won eight-round decision over Johnny Ciforelli, Jersey City.

Studebakers Prepared For Stiff Opposition From Struthers Squad

What will in all probability prove one of the outstanding semi-pro football contests of the season will occupy the attention of the entire district at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday when Salem Studebakers clash with the powerful Struthers Semi-Pro.

It will be the second after-dark contest to be scheduled here since the introduction of night football at Reilly stadium.

A real tussle will no doubt be viewed by fans for rivalry between this city's semi-pro representatives has always been at a high point of intensity. Struthers boasts one of its most powerful squads in years and last Sunday held the strong Massillon Moose outfit to a 13-6 score.

The Studebakers held a stiff indoor practice last night at the Memorial building, have another scheduled for tonight and will be an improved aggregation by tomorrow night's battle. The team, though not in the state of perfection showed much improvement in holding the Harrisburg Inns to a scoreless decision Sunday and with the introduction of varied styles of attack and more practices will continue to improve.

Struthers Strong

The Massillon team, once known as the Maroons and recognized as one of the outstanding contenders for the Ohio semi-pro title was forced to come from behind to defeat Struthers. Struthers presented an impregnable line that forced the Moose to concentrate its offensive attack on forward passes. In straight football Struthers outplayed the Massillon griddeers.

McPhee, former Oberlin college star and still recognized as one of that school's greatest backs is Struthers main backfield, while the team has lately been strengthened by the addition of Marks, former Pottsville, Pa., professional star.

About 22 players were put for last night's practice of the Althouse-Brown combine at the Memorial building. Coach Bob Wilson working in several different combinations. The team has great possibilities, being composed of a number of former Salem High school stars together with players from Sebring, Leetonia and Columbiana.

"Chalk" Gaines of Columbiana, holder of three dash records in the county reported for practice and will probably get into the Struthers fracas in an Althouse uniform. Morrissey, of Leetonia who won all-county honors at tackle a few years back and the Ciminelli brothers, Jimmy and Tony also reported for the first time.

Salem Outfit Speedy

A light, fast aggregation will face the heavy Struthers squad in tomorrow night's game and Wilson is hoping to use a strong and diversified attack to even the advantage held by the visiting team in weight. Arnold Seeds and Patsy Konert will undoubtedly get the call at the halfback positions with Chris Reesler at fullback and Pifer Marsh at quarterback.

This makes it an all ex-high backfield, each one of these players having played with Salem High previous to their graduation into the semi-pro field. Gus Jacobson, Peanuts Debnar and Mex Harrington are favored for guard posts while Wilson and Francis Simonds will be at tackle and Pete Sartick at

Ohio Football Schedules

Delaware, O., Oct. 15.—Hard work and plenty of scrimmage is on tap for the Battling Bishops of Ohio Wesleyan for the remainder of the week. Coach Gauthier declared in shaping his team which will meet Miami university Saturday. Several changes in the lineup were noticeable at the scrimmage yesterday, and Gauthier said that every berth on the Ohio Wesleyan eleven is open and will remain that way until 11 men who will fight to the last whistle can be found. After allowing Ohio university to hand it a licking during the past week end, the Bishops are none too confident as to the outcome of the tussle with the Big Red team.

Springfield, O., Oct. 15.—"On to Heidelberg" was the din raised at the Wittenberg campus today but Coach Stobbs is feeling none of that elation. Ted Marty, Akron, who is one of the Wittenberg reliables, is held to the sideline by a minor injury. The eleven is inclined to show the deepest respect for the student princes whom it meets Saturday.

Hard scrimmage is on tap for the Lutherans.

We Salute the Conqueror of Darkness

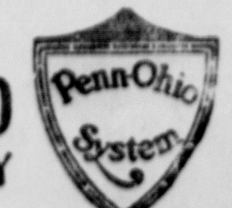

The quickening pace of creative science now moves so swiftly that a single year brings progress that would have once required decades of patient research. For, available to the inventor of our day is the vast deposit of scientific lore that has accumulated from the discoveries of his predecessors.

The citadels of Undiscovered Knowledge have yielded up their treasures less stubbornly once the main portals were unlocked. It remained for a few great pioneers to chisel out the master keys—Newton, Darwin, Pasteur, Watt and Haladay; Steinmetz, Edison and their kind.

Through his invention of the first practical incandescent lamp on the 21st night of October in 1879, Thomas Edison swung wide the portal of Electricana. The magnificent additions of Edison's contemporaries to this key discovery serve only to magnify his achievement. Like the great Egyptian Sphinx of Wisdom, he rises out of the darkness of the ages — the Sphinx of Light.

Radio Tubes Have Cat's "Nine Lives"

Radio tubes may be delicate in appearance but, in reality, are more difficult to "kill" than a cat with the proverbial nine lives, it was proven in a recent fire and explosion in a New Orleans home.

During the blaze, a terrific blast of ignited gas blew the home radio set through a room wall of solid brick and plaster, burying it in the debris. Two weeks later, it was uncovered from the ruins and was discovered to be giving unimpaired reception.

PRODUCTION AT FACTORY HIGH

$275,000 In Radio Sets
Manufactured Daily
By Majestic

Three quarters of a million dollars worth of radio sets each day—that's a pretty large order. But the Grigsby Grunow Co. is filling it regularly with more than 5,000 sets, and soon this figure will be 7,000 or more. It is affirmed, Rollin Finley, Salem Majestic Radio dealer announced today.

Majestic's was a $55,000,000 business in 1927, with eliminations as the principal product. Production of sets began in June 1928 at a $40,000,000 rate, and at least $120,000,000 is the estimate for the present year.

Material flows through the eight plants in a stream, speedily but not hurriedly. In the first two the radio set itself is made, in the next five, the cabinet, the super-dynamic speaker and the power pack, while in the eighth, 30,000 tubes are turned out daily, Finley stated.

There are no warehouses, and only a few stock rooms, relatively small, Finley continued. In some cases material comes into the shops and within two hours is loaded in cars again in the form of completed radios, boxed for shipment. Practically no item is kept in an unfinished state more than two days. About 37 car loads of raw materials arrive daily. There is a standing order for 40 empty box cars a day, to be switched in, ten at a time, into which radios are loaded the moment they are completed. No stock of finished goods is kept on hand.

Philco Improved By Screen Grid Tubes

At last the much heralded, talked about A. C. screen grid tube has come into its own.

The radio market is very much excited over the new Philco-balanced unit model 65 using the new A. C. screen grid tubes in the radio frequency stages.

This new tube gives tremendous amplification as compared with any radio tube ever before produced and has such a low internal capacity that neutralizing devices are unnecessary.

READ THE WANT COLUMN

Using the new screen grid tube there is no howl or squeal, and the absence of tube or set noises makes the loud speaker as silent as the grave, except when the tuning dial is exactly on a station.

Philco balanced-unit chassis Number 65 is a strictly all-electric A. C. 6-tube set, including a full-wave rectifier tube. The detector is a UY227 heater type tube and the audio uses two UX245 power tubes in push-pull.

The use of these tubes in connection with the special Philco push-pull input and output transformers delivers a wonderful tone, pure and clear, with marvelous fidelity that makes the listener think he is in the broadcast studio.

This new Philco balanced-unit chassis is extraordinarily well shielded, and each and every unit is so carefully and painstakingly matched and balanced at the factory that the set is powerful and ultra-selective.

Distant stations come in with a punch and a clarity that is regulated only by the atmospheric noise level.

Engler's Electric Shop, 28 Roosevelt, has the new Philco balanced-unit models on display and ready for installation.

Rheumatic Pains Quickly Routed By New Konjola

Happy Lady Lauds Modern Compound: Gave Her Relief After Other Medicines Had Failed

MRS. LILLIAN B. NELSON
 "For a number of years I suffered great pain from rheumatism in my joints and limbs," said Mrs. Lillian B. Nelson, 310 N. Center St., Youngstown, Ohio. "My stomach also was a source of misery to me. Every muscle in my body ached and pained from the rheumatism. Gas formed on my stomach after every meal. My stomach bloated and I suffered from heart palpitation."

"Konjola was so highly recommended that I felt it must have some merit and decided to give it a trial. That was the turning point. I rapidly improved, and soon Konjola had restored my digestion and increased my appetite. Rheumatism is a thing of the past. In every way I have been benefited. I actually feel twenty years younger. No wonder I am enthusiastic about Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease drug stores, (Mr. Kaminsky) and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.
